Coaches Challenge Cup – MWC 2010

Cathy Velazquez – Senior Vice President
Communications,
Industry & Government Relations

Participation in sports enhances a child's character development; children learn the value of work ethic, perseverance, sportsmanship and camaraderie," says Cathy Velazquez, SVP, MBNA. "Through team sports, children learn to understand the importance of contribution and collaboration. These values, learned in practice and game situations, can be directly applied in the home and the classroom. Not to mention the health benefits for youth participation in sports, which is significant. The Mini World Cup Tournament Series is a terrific event for the children of our community and we're proud to support it." In addition, we are extremely proud to be the "Official Sponsor of the Coaches Challenge Cup". Where all 500 participating MWC Tournament Athletes cheer on their Coaches to do their best!
