There will be a total of 16-U11 teams of which 8 of these teams will compete at the “Premier Level” and 8 teams will compete at the “Division 1 Level”. And there are 16-U10 teams of which 8 of these teams will complete at the “Premier Level” and 8 teams will compete at the “Division 1 Level”.

With over 448 athletes, coaches and training staff along with approximately 1500 Spectators and 100 volunteers, the U10/U11 Mini World Cup 2010 – World Cup 2009 Edition, continues to build on the phenomenal success of last years’ 2009 Confederations Cup!
